The posses went north and west, as Archey was seen going up the race and toward the river, soon after the robbery, but after a long search they returned to Carthage.

Sheriff Hunt and local officers were called after 9 o'clock, which was three hours after the assault, but they went to the scene and re mained until midnight. They searched a house in which they thought Ar chev migth seek shelter, but he could not be located, and it is believed that he left the territory as soon as he could do so after the robbery

Freeman had been in Carthage for some time, and was a young man, probably near 20 years of age. Archey was about 32 years old, and also had worked at the mill for several weeks, having formerly been a resident of Anderson. Several weeks and the other two were dismissed. ago he lived in Carthage.

COAL STRIKE SPREADS IN NON-UNION FIELDS

National Union Organizers Persuade Over 15,000 Men in Unorganized Territory to Quit

ONLY 12 MINES OPERATING

(By United Press)

Brownsville, Penn., April 7.—The coal strike is spreading steadily in non union fields of Pennsylvania. National union organizers have persuaded over 15,000 non union workers in the heart of the unorganized coal fields to drop their picks, causing shutdown of 34 mines, seven of them owned by the steel corporation.

James Feeney, national organizer, predicted another week will see the entire coal industry of the Connellsville region idle. Only 12 mines were operating today.

"Never before have we found sentiment of unorganized workers and the public so strongly in favor of the United Mine Workers," Feeney declared.

The shut down of the 34 non union mines has already caused a fifty per cent cut in production, Feeney declared. The remaining 12 mines are the largest producers of the 3,000,-000 tons mined monthly in the Connellsville region.

Dr. L. W. Munhall Preaches on "The All Inclusiveness of The Gospel Invitation" at M. E. Church

Holy Spirit Says Come, Church Says Come and All Who Hear Say Come, Evangelist Declares

The fine spring weather of Thursday made it possible for a few folks to attend the revival services at the St. Faul's church for the first time. The attendance at both services was much larger than of any week day thus far and the interest correspondingly increased.

Prayer was offered by the Rev. WE WILL OFFER AT PUBLIC Mr. Hartasw of Whitcomb, Ind. The subject of the afternoon address was "The Holy Spirit, His Personality and Office." Dr. Munhall showed by the scriptures the co-equality of the Holy Spirit with the Father and the Son in creation. 22:17. He pointed out the fact that truth was necessarily two-sided, being from God to Man. "The Bible teaches predestination, but that is the Godward side of the truth of redemption," Dr. Munhall ontinued. "It also teaches man's ree moral agency, the manward ide of redemption. Both these aspects are clearly indicated in John 3:37; Phil. 2:12; etc and illustrated in Paul's Shipwreck experience. For whom He did foreknown, he also did predestinate to be conformed to the image of His Son,' Rom. 8:29. But God 'Willeth all men to be saved and come unto the knowledge of the truth.' 1 Tim. 2:4.

"The invitation is to all unsaved people. Redemption is an accomplished fact. Jesus by the grace of Ged tasted death, for every man (Heb. 2:9); and all are invited to avail themselves of its benefits. The Holy Spirit says come. The church says come. All who hear are authorized to say come. The thirst for own fault. The way is open, and 30. the conditions are possible to all: and he or she who puts any obstacle in the way of anyone who is born, see Rev. 22:18, 19."

At the close of the sermon Dr. held in that city. Munhall made a strong appeal to the unsaved to accept Christ and confess Him. The victory that foldom and caused shouts of praise and thanksgiving. The interest was such that the people were loathe to leave and many tarried in the church long after the meeting had been dismissed.

Our Pledge To the Farmer

We will carry at all times a complete stock of repair parts for all machines we sell.

We will carry only genuine IHC repairs for McCormick-Deering Machines, as these are the only ones made from the original patterns. They are exact duplicates of the same parts made for new machines.

We refuse to sell "Will-Fit" or "Made-For" imitation parts made by concerns that do not have the same interest in the continued good work of your machines that the manufacturers of the machines have.

If we do not have in stock the repair parts for any machine we sell, we guarantee to get them at once from the nearest branch house.

When we order emergency repairs — rush orders — from the branch house, we promise not to charge you extra for any telegrams, telephone tolls, express or parcel post charges that we may incur in getting them, for it is our business to keep in stock what you need.

We will not under any circumstances, charge you one cent more than regular price for any repair parts you buy from us. This applies to repairs for all McCormick-Deering machines, whether you bought the machines from us or elsewhere.

You may expect a visit from us in our new red Sales and Service

We know that we are not entitled to one dollar's worth of your business unless we can deliver one hundred cents' worth of value, quality and service for every dollar you spend with us. Thanks to a quality line, and to our good old Golden Rule business policy, we are able to turn your money into real farm equipment value when you buy here.

The McCormick-Deering Line provides the best-known and most complete line of tractor-operated equipment on the market. The tractors and machines are designed to work together as field units.

Pilgrims Knew the Bible

Three hundred years ago a little band of men and women lived on faith and hard work in the forests of Massachusetts. They are known now as Pilgrims because they sailed from England to find a place to worship God without restraint. I hey brought their pastor with them—few modern immigrants do.

Bible Develops Character

The Pilgrims were poor and unlearned, but they knew the Bible. That knowledge developed a type of character we all admire! These first settlers would not be known to posterity had they not been so well acquainted with their Bible. Is your Bible a parlor ornament, or a study book? Read it today around the family lamp. Read it every day.

Comb Sage Tea Into Gray Hair

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre At Once

Common garden sage, brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea. and Sulphur recipe at home, though is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our the Sunday evening service. youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and Iuxuriant, and you appear years ing 7:30 p. m. younger .- Advertisement.

Traffic Rights

Says a citizen who drives a car, and who has never had any trouble with the police:

"If automobilists drove as carelessly as pedestrians walk, and with as little regard for other people's rights the inils would be full of

Where is the moving mass of pedestrians, he wants to know, that makes a proper stream of traffic along the sidewalk? The law requires that they, like the vehicles in the street, should keep to the right. Yet there are always flocks of pedes. trians walking on the wrong side of the walk, stopping to talk right in middle of the walk, weaving in and out regardless of law or common sense, and otherwise obstructing foot-traffic.

In so doing, the pedestrians only interfere with each other. In crossing the street, this citizen insists, they interfere with vehicle traffic in a way that they could consider intolerable if automobile drivers performed the same pranks. They cut across anywhere in the block, instead of at the crossings provided. unfortunately have been omitted. They disregard traffic signals in a way that a motorist seldom dares to. They compel the motorist to look out for their lives, instead of doing their own share of looking out. They nearly scare drivers to death by darting ahead of cars unexpectedly; and often, by getting in the way when they have no business there, they deprive automobiles of their turn at the crossing and slow down the whole stream of vehicle traffic.

feud that is not often heard. There is undoubtedly something in it. Pedestrians will never succeed in winning adequate recogition of their own rights until they are more regardful of the other fellow's.

But often the lesson was learned in his own home, with his own father as his instructor-unintentionally, perhaps, but nevertheless his instructor.

If a father and his little son are out in the yard, and the father begins to romp around, the child will do likewise. It is the human tendency to imitate, stronger in the juvenile than in the adult.

BOTH ST. LOUIS CLUBS DEPEND ON PITCHING

By W. J. McVICKER

St Louis has two Major League baseball clubs that are almost like twins. The eards stand for the National League pennant, and the Browns look fine for the American league honors.

Both clubs have a lot in common. Their chances both depend upon the same thing-pitching.

All that Lee Fohl has in his race for the pennant is the combination runs four miles in the Achilles Club of the best outfield in the league an games Saturday, is reported in ex- infield that hardly can be improved cellent condition by Coach Robert- upon, good catchers, promising son. The track is heavy with snow pitchers and the strongest attack in and rain now but better weather is the circuit. That ought to be enough with good management that it has.

> With the exception of adding some pitching rookies, Fohl is standing pat on the aggregation that found itself in July last season, finished with a terrific spurt that took it from seventh place to the runnerup position and made it the best looking team in the league when the schedule was finished.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY CHARGE DISMISSED

Albert Capp and Mr. and Mrs. Sil verton Bebout were returning from Indianapolis late yesterday and stopped at Morristown to get some oil for the automobile.

They stopped at the garage operated by the defendant, and Mr. Bebout obtained a drink of water in the rear of the shop. They proceeded homeward and near Arlington a machine passed them going east, and when the Rushville machine neared the iron bridge near the car which had passed stopped in the roadway and prevented them from Walters is alleged to have jumped out of the machine, and swinging a pump handle, commanded them to hand over $4.00 and at the same time is alleged to have used profane as well as indecent language in making his demand for the money. The oil they had obtained had been paid for, and the garage owner declared that the $4 was to pay for an alleged act of misconduct on the part of Mr. Bebout, while he was in the garage.

After considerable wrangling, Mr. Bebout handed him a dollar, and the charge of highway robbery was the outgrowth, because it was charged that the defendant obtained money under threats and by causing fear among the occupants of the automo-

A Complete Cycle of Service

N directing the affairs of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) the 7 men responsible for its management and success keep constantly before them the ideals of service which have animated the organization in its development.

They are ever mindful of the fact that the service rendered by this Company bears a close and intimate relation to the progress, success and prosperity of practically every other industry. And that it has a major bearing on many professional and highly specialized branches of

They recognize the grave responsibility of supplying petroleum products to those who use the internal combustion engine as a source of power, and to those who depend upon this Company to lubricate their equipment in such manner as to conserve the power and the machinery which it operates.

These are the major and more obvious services rendered, but equal attention is given to problems affecting an individual or a small group.

This service may take the form of expert advice as to the best method of lubricating a single machine, it may be something to reduce the labor of the housewife, or to assist the medical profession in serving humanity. It may be a new kind of pavement or a method to increase or conserve the food supply.

These are but a few of the hundreds of ways in which Standard Oil service, positive and clearly defined, is helping and adding to the efficiency and economy of business generally.

As an example of how far this service is carried, we may mention the recently developed burning oil, Neolite, which supplies a growing demand for an oil used primarily in incubators and brooders, where a steady, unvarying heat must be maintained over a considerable period of time. To those who use incubators and brooders, Neolite is of great value.

While it is probable that the sales of this product will never attain a large volume, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) adds it to its long list of useful products that it may further discharge its obligation in rendering a complete cycle of service to 25 million people of 11 Middle Western States.

The Pump of a Hundred Uses

N MORE than a hundred thousand farms this simple pump of proven success is used every day for spraying trees or vines, white-washing, washing vehicles, extinguishing fires, spraying animals, disinfecting coups and pens, injecting medicines in veterinary cases, and for scores of other uses. In orchard work three times as many trees can be sprayed in a day by one man, because no platforms or ladders have to be used. The work can be done from the ground. This pump cuts costs and gets the work done quicker. It is a real necessity for every farmer.

The pump is made entirely of brass which is not affected by ordinary chemicals. It is guaranteed for five years and will last much longer.

Susan Tingley, 98 and Still Active, May Round Out Century

Continued from Page One out as soon as the land was cleared," said "Aunt Susan", recounting the early struggles of her parents as they were repeated to her by her mother in later years, "and the peach trees grew and bore fruit in four years. But my father never lived to see the apple trees bear. "He died of malaria fever. Every body had the ague each fall. They would shake until the bed rocked and then when the fever passed off, they would have a 'lambin headach.'

"We always had plenty of berries and nuts to live on," she continued, "and then there were a few snakes and wild cats and porcupines, but no Indians as far as I can remem-

Mrs. Tingley's father had four brothers, and they all located in the same vicinity on small tracts of land. Each found a location with a spring, which supplied them with water and served as a cellar for keeping food.

Mrs. Tingley was four and onehalf years old when Swanson was hung. She was not old enough for the incident to be impressed indelibly on her memory, but she recalls well coming to Rushville with her mother in a big wagon, and she and her two brothers were left about a block from the scene of the hanging and told to remain in the wagon and play. She recalls seeing a man brought out of the jail with a black mask over his head and she was told afterwards that Swanson was hauled to the scaffold with his hand on his coffin and singing "There's a Land of Pure Delight".

When "Aunt Susan" grew old enough to attend school, she went to the district school the first year and then her mother, who was ambitious for her daughter, arranged for her to attend school at the Presbyterian church in Rushville, which was a cabin of logs. In those days school consisted of one term of three months each year. She also attended school later at the Methodist church.

"I some times rode to school horse back, always with a sidesaddle,' Mrs. Tingley said, "but most of the time I used Shank's horses."

One day when Susan Casady was fifteen years old, a young man came to the neighborhood from Ohio with his parents and settled on a farm FOR SALE-White Wyandotte eggs adjoining Casady's. His name was Benjamin Franklin Tingley. Then began a courtship that lasted until she was twenty-one and he was twenty-three. Then they were wedded and lived happily together for fiftysix years. All of that time they spent in Rushville with the exception of five years they lived at LaFontaine and Wabash.

"We never quarreled", said "Aunt Susan". "When there was a dispute between us, we always talked it over and he always let me have my own way. If folks today would do that way and not be too hasty, there wouldn't be so many divorces."

Mr. Tingley served two terms as county clerk, served in the state legislature in 1873, was superintendent of the cemetery, treasurer of the Masonic lodge and was a publicspirited citizen. He met with business reverses and left his widow practically penniless, dying in 1902.

"But I have never suffered for anything," commented Mrs. Tingley. "I have always felt that the Lord would take care of me, and he has. She and Mary Furder, a woman of at ninty-eight. In nice weather, she strolls about the yard, but never ventures out on the sidewalk, unless some kind friend comes in an automobile and takes her to their home for the day.

"But I always ask them to bring I want to roost at home."

Mrs. Tingley's eyes are little dimed though she is near the century mark. But the agility of her mental facilities are the wonder of all who talk to her.

She recalls so readily the customs of her youth, when the social functions consisted of "wood choppings' and "quilting".

"The women had the 'quiltings' to get the men there," she said, "and then they cut down trees, piled them high and burned them to clear the ground for growing crops. In the evening the married folks went home and we young people enjoyed ourselves. We want them to go. But now it's different. The married folks always stay and are the leaders."

In those days there were no nickels and dimes. The small pieces of monev besides a large copper penny were a fifney bit, 61 cents in silver, and

Mrs. Tingley recalls well the first animal show that ever came to Rushville. She' was so small that she had to be held up by her mother to see the elephant and watch the monkies ride on the ponies. Then there were no circus seats. The audience stood.

"Aunt Susan", learned to write with a goose quill and used a large piece of lead with a string tied to it for a pencil. The mail was carried on horseback and the person who receiver it paid the postage, Mrs. Tingley recalls paying 25 cents postage on letters from Iowa.

When the farmers here began to grow wheat, they enjoyed their first wheat bread and their first coffee, which was made of browned wheat. Whenever a farmer had a surplus of wheat, he would haul it to Cincinnati in a wagon and trade it for nec-

The story unfolded in "The Scoffer" is extraordinary in many ways, since it concerns a God-fearing physician whose love turns to vicious hate through the cruelty of Fate. What happens to this man as a result of his change of belief and how he is finally made to realize that his first attitude is, after all, the only tenable one, goes to make up a narrative which is said to be gripping and full of suspense. Dr. Stannard Wayne is the God-fearing physician who regards his every service to sick humanity a solemn duty and who rejoices every time he is able to help anyone regain health. Dr. Arthur Richards, a lifelong friend, is a complete opposite in character and he plies the dangerous trade of illegal operations. On one occasion when he fears ap- (or sister)-is a member of the prehension, he traps Dr. Wayne into Christian Soldiers' Union (of peace) stepping in the case at a time when and is entitled to free transportathe death of a patient throws sus- tion on all American railroads, the picion on him. The unfortunate up- property of the people. shot is that the innocent Dr. Wayne has to serve five years in prison from which he emerges a scoffer at Providence, blaming it for the injustice he has suffered. The ex-convict seeks solace in a sparsely populated part of the country, but as coincidence would have it, he stumbles upon his wife and Dr. Richards. There, too, he meets a girl whose love and cleverness finally restore him to his right mind and sounder

"The Brute Master"-Mystic

Hobart Bosworth again scores successfully in "The Brute Master" a J. Parker Read, Jr., production released through the W. W. Hodkinson Corporation, which will be on view today at the Mystic.

"The Brute Master" is a man who, powerful physically, rules all with whom he comes in contact through sheer force of brute strength. When Madeline Grey, wintering with friends at a tropical resort, receiving an urgent call from her people in the States to return immediately, is compelled to take passage on the schooner which he owns he thinks to win her by the same crude methods. An interesting chain of circumstances showing his complete regeneration lead from this point to the climax, which ends a highly satisfactory and unusual

To our mind the virile Mr. Bosworth has never had a role better suited to his strong and pleasing pesonality. He brings all the wealth of his long experience to the delineation of the giant figure who, while fierce and rugged, still had depths of tender feeling which only the girl whom he loved was able to discover.

Anna Q. Nilsson is capable and charming as Madeline Grey. William Conklin and pretty, vivacious Margaret Livingston are the other principals in the cast and acquit themselves creditably.

A posse of citizens was formed and a search was made for the as-leity, were arraigned this morning on sailant, but he made good his escape. A liberal purse was taken up against them, and they each provided and offered as a reward for the capture of Archey.

Both parties were employed at the paper mill, where the attack was made, it was stated today, and Freeman was struck over the head with some heavy object, either an iron die or a pair of knucks, which rendered him unconscious.

A severe wound was inflicted, but it is believed that he will recover unless some complication arises. Late in the night he was suffering from a slight hemorrhage, which was caused from the assault.

The posses went north and west as Archey was seen going up the race and toward the river, soon after the robbery, but after a long search they returned to Carthage.

Sheriff Hunt and local officers were called after 9 o'clock, which was three hours after the assault. but they went to the scene and remained until midnight. They searched a house in which they thought Archey migth seek shelter, but he could not be located, and it is believed that he left the territory as soon as he could do so after the robbery.

Freeman had been in Carthage for some time, and was a young man, probably near 20 years of age. Archey was about 32 years old, and also had worked at the mill for several weeks, having formerly been a resident of Anderson, Several weeks ago he lived in Carthage.

It is said that Archey is married and has a family living in Anderson, and that he also is wanted in that city on some kind of a charge.

Delegation From Rushville Participates in Charter Presentation At Brookville

CEREMONY THURSDAY NIGHT

Banqueters Entertained With Program, Including Half Hour of Jess Pugh's Mimicry

A delegation of twenty Kiwanians from Rushville was present Thursday night at the charter meeting of the Brookville Kiwanis club when the charter, dated February 22, 1922 was formally presented by J. N. Bromert of Indianapolis, district governor.

Carrying along with them a carefully rehearsed special song belitting the oceasion, the local Kiwanians journeyed to the Franklin county metropolis full of pep and bilarity. They were accompanied by Jess who was called on at the close of the regular program and kept the banqueters in an uproar for thirty minutes with a "lesson" in public speaking and other original mimiery.

There were two hundred at the banquet, including the wives of Brookville Kiwanians, which was held at the Knights of Columbus hall. One of the features of the program was an alleged "address" by Harry Carr, international, president of Kiwanis clubs, supposed to have been delivered at Toronto, where the international convention will be held in June. It was a reproduction through a magnavox and was supposed to bereceived by radiophone.

The program following the banquet opened with the singing of America" and the invocation by the Rev. J. H. Carnes of Brookville. Following a vocal solo by Miss Ethel Irwin of Brookville, I. M. Dr. L. W. Munhall Preaches on "The All Inclusiveness of The Gospel Invitation" at M. E. Church

REDEMPTION IS ACCOMPLISHED

Holy Spirit Says Come, Church Says Come and All Who Hear Say Come, Evangelist Declares

The fine spring weather of Thurs lay made it possible for a few folk o attend the revival services at the St. Paul's church for the firs time. The attendance at both services was much larger than of any week day thus far and the interes correspondingly increased.

WE WILL OFFER AT PUBLIC Mr. Hartasw of Whitcomb, Ind. The subject of the afternoon address was "The Holy Spirit, His Person-ality and Office." Dr. Munhall showed by the scriptures the co-equality of the Holy Spirit with the Father and the Son in creation. He then declared that He was the only Person of the Godhead or among men.

"God the Father Almighty is on the throne of glory and power in the midst of the heavens," he said. God, the Son as High Priest and advocate before the Eather, whom the heavens must receive until the restoration of all things, since the world began when He will appear a second time apart from sin unto Salvation. Meanwhile the Holy Spirexecutive of the Godhead directing in all God's dealings with men."

The speaker then showed the Spirit's work in giving the Bible to the world and in the work of re-60 10-ft. sawed square demption through Jesus Christ and also in the resurrection of Jesus. The discussion is being continued this afternoon.

The night service was largely attended, many leading citizens, being present and the interest was the est of any service thus far. The chorus was large and their work fine under the leadership of Mr. Wamsley, Mrs. Norma Hogsett has been doing excellent work at the organ. The opening prayer was by District Superintendent Walker, and the Rev. C. S. Black and Wr. Wamsley sang a duet most impressively. Dr. Munhall took for his subject, "The All Inclusiveness of the Gospel Invitation." His text was Rev. 22:17. He pointed out the fact that truth was necessarily two-sided, Steers being from God to Man.

"The Bible teaches prodestination, but that is the Godward side of the truth of redemption," Dr. Munhall ontinued. "It also teaches man's free moral agency, the manward side of redemption. Both these aspects are clearly indicated in John 6:37; Phil. 2:12; etc and illustrated in Paul's Shipwreck experience. For whom He did foreknown; he also did predestinate to be conformed to the image of His Son,' Rom. S:29. But God Willeth all men to be saved and come unto the knowledge of the. truth.' A Tim. 2:4.

"The invitation is to all unsaved people Redemption is an accomplished fact. Jesus by the grace of God tasted death, for every man (Heb. 2:9); and all are invited to avail themselves of its benefits. The Holy Spirit says come. The church says come. All who hear are authorized to say come. The thirst for own fault. The way is open, and 30. the conditions are possible to all; and he or she who puts any obstacle in the way of anyone who is born, see Rev. 22:18, 19."

At the close of the sermon Dr. held in that city. Munhall made a strong appeal to the unsaved to accept Christ and confess-Him. The victory that followed brought souls into the Kingdom and caused shouts of praise and thanksgiving. The interest was such that the people were loathe to church long after the meeting had been dismissed.

Bloomington, Ind., April 7.— After pledging $200 to the Indiana university Memorial compaign just before going to the operating table, William Lcon Moore, '24, of Rushville, decided to get well and pay the pledge. Moore, who is working his way through school suffered an attack of appendicitis and was removed to the City hospital on Wednesday, March 8, before the solicitors could reach him. When the team arrived he was on his way to the table but cheerfully took time out to make his pledge.

Pilgrims Knew the Bible

Three hundred years ago a little band of men and women lived on faith and hard work in the forests of Massachusetts. They are known now as Pilgrims because they sailed from England to find a place to worship God without restraint. They brought their pastor with them—few modern immigrants do.

Bible Develops Character

The Pilgrims were poor and unlearned, but they knew the Bible. That knowledge developed a type of character we all admire! These first settlers would not be known to posterity had they not been so well acquainted with their Bible. Is your Bible a parlor ornament, or a study book? Read it today around the family lamp. Read it every day.

Comb Sage Tea Into Gray Hair

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre At Once

Common garden sage, brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the, Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, a large bottle, at little rost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant, and you appear years younger .- Advertisement.

Repair Your Fences Now

W HY pay a veterinary for treating bloated cattle or collicky horses when a little meney invested in wire fence will keep your stock where it belongs. It is cheaper to keep your fence in good condition than to have even one cow or one horse die as a result of broken down fences.

Poor fences - and there are many of them - are mighty expensive. Good fences always pay.

When you are ready to buy, we want to tell you about our Cambria fence, and show you our stock of locust and cedar line and anchor posts. We now have a nice stock of wire fence and posts, and we will be only too glad to show them to you, whether you huy or not.

"He died of malaria fever Every body had the ague each fall. They would shake until the bed rocked and then when the fever passed off, they would have a Tambin headach.

"We always had plenty of berries and nuts to live on," she continued, "and then there were a few snakes and wild cats and porcupines, but no Indians as far as I can remem-引与"病阴毒"卷酸

Mrs. Tingley's father had four brothers, and they all located in the same vicinity on small tracts of land. Each found a location with a spring, which supplied them with water and served as a sellar for keeping food.

Mrs. Tingley was four and onehalf years old when Swanson was hung. She was not old enough for the incident to be impressed indelibly on her memory, but she recalls well coming to Rushville with her mother in a big wagon, and she and her two brothers were left about a block from the seene of the hanging and told to remain in the wagon and play. She recalls seeing a man brought out of the jail with a black mask over his head and she was told afterwards that Swanson was hauled to the scaffold with his hand on his coffin and singing "There's a Land of Pure Delight".

When "Aunt Susan" grew old enough to attend school, she went to the district school the first year and then her mother, who was ambitious for her daughter, arranged for her to attend school at the Presbyterian church in Rushville, which was a cabin of logs. In those days school consisted of one term of three months each year. She also attended school later at the Methodist church.

"I some times rode to school horse back, always with a sidesaddle,' Mrs. Tingley said, "but most of the time I used Shank's horses."

One day when Susan Casady was fifteen years old, a young man came to the neighborhood from Ohio with his parents and settled on a farm adjoining Casady's. His name was Benjamin Franklin Tingley. Then began a courtship that lasted until she was twenty-one and he was twenty-three. Then they were wedded and lived happily together for fiftysix years. All of that time they spent in Rushville with the exception of five years they lived at LaFontaine and Wabash.

"We never quarreled", said "Aunt Susan". "When there was a dispute between us, we always talked it over and he always let me have my own way. If folks today would do that way and not be too hasty, there wouldn't be so many divorces."

Mr. Tingley served two terms as county clerk, served in the state legislature in 1873, was superintendent of the cemetery, treasurer of the Masonic lodge and was a publicspirited citizen. He met with business reverses and left his widow penniless, dying in 1902. practically

"But I have never suffered for anything," commented Mrs. Tingley. "I have always felt that the Lord would take care of me, and he has.' She and Mary Furder, a woman of seventy years, live alone and manage to get along happily together. "Aunt Susan" earries in a bucket FOR SALE-Sound mare, lady of water every morning from the hydrant, makes herself a cup of coffee and prepares her own breakfast.

Yes, she still drinks coffee even at ninty-eight. In nice weather, she strolls about the yard, but never ventures out on the sidewalk, unless some kind friend comes in an automobile and takes her to their home for the day. /

"But I always ask them to bring me back at night," she said, "because I want to roost at home."

Mrs. Tingley's eyes are little dimed though she is near the century mark. But the agility of her mental facilities are the wonder of all who talk to her.

She recalls so readily the customs of her youth, when the social functions consisted of "wood choppings" and "quilting".

"The women had the 'quiltings' to get the men there," she said, "and then they cut down trees, piled them high and burned them to clear the ground for growing crops. In the evening the married folks went home and we voung people enjoyed ourselves. We want them to go. But now it's different. The married folks always stay and are the leaders."

In those days there were no nickels and dimes. The small pieces of money besides a large copper penny were a fifney bit, 61 cents in silver, and

Mrs. Tingley recalls well the first animal show that ever came to Rushville. She was so small that she had to be held up by her mother to see the elephant and watch the monkies ride on the ponies. Then there were no circus seats. The audience stood.

"Aunt Susan", learned to write with a goose quill and used a large piece of lead with a string tied to it for a pencil. The mail was carried on horseback and the person who receiver it paid the postage, Mrs. Tingley recalls paying 25 cents postage on letters from Iowa.

When the farmers here began to grow wheat, they enjoyed their first wheat bread and their first coffee, which was made of browned wheat. Whenever a farmer had a surplus of wheat, he would haul it to Cineinnati in a wagon and trade it for nec-

Vaudeville and Pictures—Princess

Princess theater offers for the patrons two high class acts of vaudeville, and a feature photoplay, "The The story unfolded in "The Scoff

r" is extraordinary in many ways, ince it concerns a God-fearing physician whose love turns to vicious hate through the cruelty of Fate. What happens to this man as a result of his change of belief and how he is finally made to realize that his first attitude is, after all, the only tenable one, goes to make up a narrative which is said to be gripping and full of suspense. Dr. Stannard Wayne is the God-fearing physician who regards his every service to sick humanity a solemn duty and who rejoices every time he is able to help anyone regain health. Dr. Arthur Richards, a lifelong friend, is a complete opposite in character and he plies the dangerous trade of illegal operations. On one occasion when he fears apprehension, he traps Dr. Wayne into stepping in the case at a time when the death of a patient throws suspicion on him. The unfortunate upshot is that the innocent Dr. Wayne has to serve five years in prison from which he emerges a scoffer at Providence, blaming it for the injusice he has suffered. The ex-convic seeks solace in a sparsely populated part of the country, but as coincidence would have it, he stumbles upon his wife and Dr. Richards. There, too, he meets a girl whose love and cleverness finally restore him to his right mind and sounder

"The Brute Master"—Mystic

Hobart Bosworth again scores successfully in "The Brute Master" J. Parker Read, Jr., production released through the W. W. Hodkinson Corporation, which will be on view today at the Mystic.

"The Brute Master" is a man who, powerful physically, rules all with whom he comes in contact through sheer force of brute strength. When Madeline Grey, wintering with friends at a tropical resort, receiving an urgent call from her people in the States to return immediately, is compelled to take passage on the schooner which be owns he thinks to win her by the same crude methods. An interesting chain of circumstances showing his complete regeneration lead from this point to the climax, which ends righly satisfactory and unusual

To our mind the virile Mr. Bosworth has never had a role better suited to his strong and pleasing pesonality. He brings all the wealth of his long experience to the delineation of the giant figure who, while fierce and rugged, still had depths of tender feeling which only the girl whom he loved was able to discover.

Anna Q. Nilsson is capable and charming as Madeline Grey. William Conklin and pretty, vivacious Margaret Livingston are the other principals in the east and acquit themselves creditably.

Gait Measures Fine

Indianapolis, April 7.—Speeders vill be fined according to the gait they travel under a system inaugurated in city court today by Judgs Delbert O. Wilmeth.

Five dollars and costs for thirty niles an hour.

Ten dollars and costs for thirtyive miles an hour.

Twenty dollars and costs for forty miles an hour.

After the forty mile speed is attained, the amount of the fine will rest in the discretion-or mercy of the court.

"The motorcycle cops do not bring persons into court on speeding charges whose speed was less than thirty miles an hour," Judge Wilmeth explained.
